

Revation's Mobile Worker Solution

Today's healthcare landscape is rapidly becoming more mobile as each year goes by. From the implementation of EMR/EHR to the new option of virtual visits where patients can communicate and interact with providers from a mobile device, the "anywhere, anytime" type of mindset is now widespread across the industry.

With many aspects of the healthcare industry moving to mobile, case workers that spend much of their workday away from their desk performing on-site case visits have developed a significant need for a mobile solution that enables them to both communicate with fellow employees and document data.

Revation's Mobile Worker solution provides case workers that are frequently on-the-go with the tools they need to efficiently and securely communicate from on-site case visits, all from one integrated application. Our solution provides agents with one easy-to-use mobile tool that can be accessed from any mobile device, enhancing productivity when away from the office.

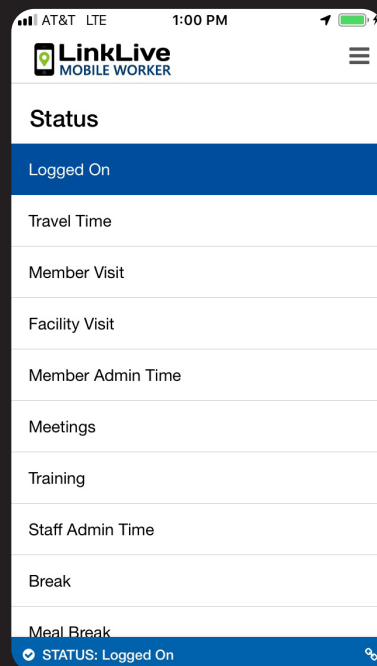

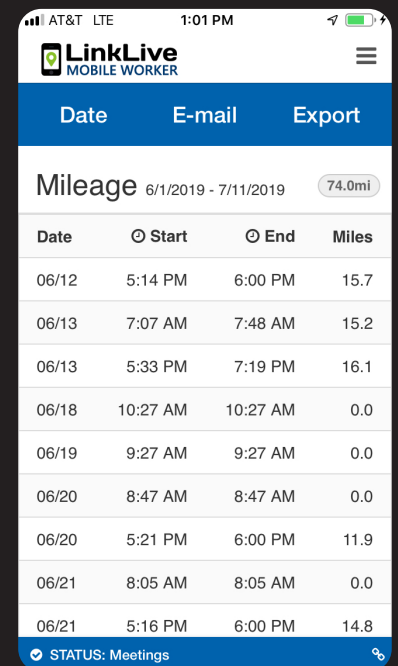

Powered by LinkLive, our Mobile Worker application provides the agents with their communications, relationship management and other logistical applications directly from their mobile device, making it easy to securely communicate by dialing out directly from the application on their mobile device.

Mobile Worker offers a variety of critical data for case workers that are frequently out of office visiting numerous clients through the day, including:
